ROOSTER KILLS RAT.

A strange combat was witnessed in Dorcy, Mass., yesterday morning between a black Minorca rooster, belonging to William Crumbach, and a large sewer rat, which was attempting to carry away one of Crumbach's small chickens. In broad daylight, evidently emboldened by hunger, the rodent made its appearance among the flock and was in the act of carrying a young chicken off, when the rooster saw it. The parent bird made a rush at the thief and struck it with its wings and spurs. The rat leaped sideways at the next onslaught, and then finding the rooster determined to give battle, it dropped its prey and for the next minutes both fought the battle of their lives. The rat avoided the sharp spurs of the rooster as much as possible, and as soon as an attack was delivered it would rush in and attempt to fasten its teeth on the cock's throat. The rooster would jump several feet in the air and shake off the rat. Finally the rooster succeeded in putting out one of the rat's eyes, and then it knocked the rat right and left until the rodent ran into its hole where it died.

WEALTHY ITALIAN KILLED.

After a quarrel in which five men took part in the barber shop of Ignazio Guidie, Monroe street, New York, yesterday afternoon, the men backed into the street and one of them fired three shots from a .38-caliber revolver. Another of the men was hit in the back of the head by one of the bullets and died on the way to a hospital. The barber's assistant was arrested, but the man who did the shooting got away.

Francisco Grimi Rinaldi is the name of the man shot. He was a wealthy Sicilian importer of wines and olive oil. He had just come out of the barber shop when a young Italian named Alfredo Ventinglino walked up to him and said something in an undertone. Rinaldi swung his arms and slapped the young man's face.

The boy drew back, pulled a big revolver from his hip pocket, and fired thrice. The first clipped Rinaldi's thumb, the second entered the side of the merchant's head, just above the brim of his Panama hat, and the third struck him in the abdomen.

The dead man had been in this country about two years. In Sicily he was reputed to have been a brigand and one of the more powerful members of the Camorra. It was also said that he was an ex-convict, having served thirteen years in Italy for some particular act of brigandage.

Ventinglino, a young Sicilian gambler and ne'er-do-well, had been in love with Rinaldi's daughter Jennie, much to Rinaldi's disgust. Jennie went to Boston several days ago to visit her uncle. Ventinglino had proposed to her before she went, and had provisionally been accepted. The girl's father had become enraged when he learned this, and Monday afternoon ordered the young Sicilian from the house. The murderer escaped.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

WAR AGAINST BAD MILK.

The products of their insanitary dairies barred out of Richmond, dairymen in several Virginia counties are marketing milk, cream and butter in Charlottesville and Washington. This information came to the headquarters of the Health Department in Richmond yesterday.

Dairy Inspector Curtis has just completed a tour of the country along the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, visiting the dairies that ship milk, butter and other products into Richmond under permits issued by the health commission and approved by the health chief. Fifteen dairies were inspected, of which number nine were found to be in good condition.

Six were placed under the ban, and their permits to ship into Richmond held up. They are now shipping their products to Washington and Charlottesville.

Kodol will without doubt help anyone who has stomach disorders or stomach troubles Take Kodol today and continue it for the short time that is necessary to give you complete relief. Kodol is sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

CARBOLIC ACID FAVORITE POISON.

A wave of suicides has swept over Pittsburg during the last ten days. From July 8 to 18 fifteen persons killed themselves in Pittsburg and six others made attempts, some of which will be fatal. Of the twenty-one eleven used carbolic acid, five revolvers, two poison, one jumped from a bridge, one jumped from a window and one cut his throat.

Four of the suicides were caused by intense grief, two young girls killed themselves because of love affairs, two men because of financial reverses and four because of ill health, while the others were caused by despondency. On Friday, July 17, with a low barometer, three persons killed themselves and one made an attempt to commit suicide.

DROWNED AT THREE SISTERS.

Albert Thompson, 23 years old, of Washington, was drowned in the Potomac river, near the Virginia shore opposite the Three Sister Islands, a short distance above Georgetown, yesterday afternoon. Thompson, with three companions, Eugene Rhodes, Daniel Sheehee, and Donald Lippold, left Aqueduct bridge at 2 o'clock for a trip up the river. They had a frail row boat, which hardly held the four men. When about 50 yards from the Three Sisters, Rhodes, Sheehee, and Lippold donned bathing suits and plunged into the water, Thompson, who could not swim, remained in the boat, rowing about, when the boat sprang a leak, and began to fill. Thompson shouted to his companions but they did not hear him. The boat became waterlogged, and turned turtle, throwing Thompson into the water. His shouts this time attracted his companions, who vainly tried to rescue the drowning man.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 22, 1908.

WHY don't the farmers of the South raise their own horses and mules, instead of paying $30,000,000 or more annually to other states for them? The Department of Agriculture sets forth in a circular recently issued some reasons why every southern farmer should breed his own farm animals. In the first place, the report says that it certainly seems anomalous to contemplate a vast section of the country spending millions annually for horses and mules, for beef and pork, and for commercial fertilizers, and selling hundreds of millions of dollars worth of fertility, such as cotton seed meal and cake, when it is realized that the condition of soil and climate generally through the South are excellent for animal production. It is also more strange that a southern farmer will buy hay shipped from the west at from $15 per $25 per ton, when his own land will often yield more hay per acre, and of as good quality. The idea is not only that the south should supply its own demand for animals, but that southern farmers should feed as far as possible the enormous amount of cottonseed meal and cake which is now shipped out, and keep up fertility with barnyard manure. No southern state has more than one half of the number of horses and mules actually needed, it is stated, and prices for horses and mules have never before been as high as at present.

DIVERSIFICATION of crops is the secret of successful farming, according to the division of farm management of the Department of Agriculture, and practical demonstration in various sections of the south has proven the axiom. Land which is persistently planted to one crop from year to year gradually but surely deteriorates. There is land in many sections of the south, on which cotton was formerly profitably grown, but which now has had to be abandoned, after vain efforts and big expenses for fertilizer. The same is true of tobacco and cane. But this supposedly worn-out land is potent with wonderful possibilities in the cultivation of some other crops—alfalfa, hay, corn, vegetables, etc. The department rather condemns the practice of the southern farmer in planting every square inch of his acreage and pinning his faith to one crop. Not that there is any desire on the part of the department to decrease the acreage of staples such as cotton, cane or tobacco—but simply because nine times out of ten diversified crops mean larger profits for the farmer. It is claimed that the southern agriculturalist loses sight of the fundamental principle of farming, which is that he should raise crops varied enough and in sufficient quantity to feed his own family.

A DISPATCH from Bristol says C. Bascom Slemp, the republican state chairman in Virginia, was in conference at Hot Springs Monday with William H. Taft, republican candidate for president. Mr. Slemp promised good accounts from Virginia in the election this fall. He will open republican headquarters in Roanoke early in August. "We are going to make an earnest effort," he told Mr. Taft, "to carry the state for the republicans. We have many reasons to be encouraged with the situation. We propose to place Virginia where she rightfully belongs as regards national politics—in the republican column." This is a misleading dream and a repetition of the republican claims of the past two decades. The republican vote in Virginia has steadily fallen off since Slemp, Summers & Co. took charge of the party, and as Mr. Taft being a man of some observation, he doubtless listened to Slemp's hallucinations with a grain of salt.

JUSTICE MORSCHAUSER, of the New York Supreme Court, filed his decision at White Plains on Monday in the suit brought by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, granting an injunction restraining the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World from using the name or title of the plaintiff, "or any name or title similar or identical thereunto or a colorable imitation thereof derived therefrom, or in any way used as a part of the title of the corporation, or the words 'Elk' and 'Elks' or the initials 'B. P. O. E.'" The defendant order is composed of negroes and Justice Morschauser says in his decision that the defendant "seems to have practically appropriated the name, title, seal, card, emblem and color, and nearly everything else used by the plaintiff in conducting its corporate affairs."

FROM many quarters of the State the report comes that election officers are registering veterans of the Spanish war as soldiers and qualifying them to vote. This is said to be allowed by the officers under the "old soldier" clause of the constitution. If so, according to lawyers who have made an exhaustive study of the subject, the officers are not only violating the law, but they are permitting men to qualify who have no right, under the section of the constitution, to exercise the right, of suffrage on that score. Only veterans of the civil war—those who fought on either side from any State or Territory—have the right to qualify and vote as old soldiers. The matter is one which may result in the arrest of the officers for permitting men to vote who are not possessed of the right.

IN AN effort to compel the District of Columbia commissioners to deliver to the secretary of the treasury a certificate for $1,500,000, setting forth that the new union station is now ready for occupancy, and that it is entitled to the compensation authorized by Congress, the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company yesterday instituted mandamus proceedings against Commissioners Macfarland, West and Morrow. The suit is the outcome of several ineffectual attempts on the part of the company to obtain the money promised upon the completion of its part of the contract. As the railroad company has not, however, complied with the contract it is hoped the money will not be paid over. One of the terms of the contract was that a sub-station should be erected in south Washington for the accommodation of those entering the city from the south, but so far no such sub-station has been erected. Congressman Carlin did his constituents a great service when he stopped the payment of the money by the District authorities to the railroad company.

WARRANTS for the arrest of the proprietors of the Riggs House, the Regent Hotel and the Howard House were issued in Washington yesterday following the arrest last week of eight lunchroom proprietors who were charged with keeping insanitary eating houses. Yesterday morning in court all but two of the cases were disposed of, one forfeiture of bond being entered and one case being continued. If such pretentious hotels as those mentioned above are insanitary what may be expected of the Washington "hash houses?"

MR. TAFT will leave Hot Springs today for Oyster Bay to submit his speech of acceptance to President Roosevelt. Mr. Taft, it seems, is afraid to make a move without first consulting Mr. Roosevelt. This would indicate that he is a weak man, with little self reliance, a characteristic not becoming a president of the United States.

THE American tourists in Switzerland are being driven away from Alpine resorts by snow storms. And they wont even throw a snowball home.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, July 22.

Solicitor General Hoyt who is sitting on the "lid" at the Department of Justice, in the absence of Attorney General Bonaparte, was surprised, but not disheartened over the reversal of Judge Landis decision in the Standard Oil Company's case. He said that he did not believe that the United States would take an appeal from the Circuit Court decision to the Supreme Court of the United States at this time, even if the recent law regarding appeals did authorize it. If the case is to be re-tried, he believes it is the best policy to allow it to be finally disposed of in the lower courts before taking it to the Supreme Court.

In view of the conflicting statements received by the State Department as to the actual situation in Central America the Navy Department has sent the cruiser Marietta from Puerto Cortez, Honduras, to Ceiba, where fighting between the government and revolutionary forces was reported two days ago. The Marietta it is expected arrived there today. There is no information at the State Department to corroborate the statements cabled from Guatemala City last night that Honduras and Nicaragua are on the verge of war with each other.

Operating under the name of Edward C. Billings, Gustave A. Aufrecht, of 45 west 34th street, and the Clarendon Hotel, New York, who claimed ability to predict the progress of the stock market, and was willing to dispose of "inside tips" at $2 a week, or $7 a month, has been denied the use of the mails, by a fraud order signed today by Acting Postmaster General Grandfield. Postoffice inspectors declare that Aufrecht has in the past conducted several shady schemes, and been denied the use of the mails under his own name. It developed that Billings loaned him the use of his name. Aufrecht sent out circulars claiming his ability to assure clients of 5 to 7 points on dull market with 3 per cent margin, in a dull market, and 12 to 15 points on an active market, and all information furnished for $2 a week or $7 a month.

Consul General William H. Michael, of Calcutta, India, has notified this government that Noel Paton, director general of Commercial Intelligence for India, will soon visit the United States, to investigate the grain elevator system with a view to its possible introduction into India.

Policeman Killed.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 22.—Patrolman P. J. McCormack was shot and fatally wounded and Patrolman Mogner received a bullet in the left leg in an attempt to arrest a hold-up man early this morning. Joe Carigula was the victim of the hold-up. When the police came upon the scene the robber opened fire on the officers, hitting both of them and then made good his escape. McCormack died at 2:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Hospital.

Will Repeal Anti-Racing Law.

Buffalo, July 22.—On his way to Quebec with his sister to visit the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, Senator Thomas F. Grady, minority leader in the State Senate, stopped long enough in Buffalo to assert his belief that the race track gambling bill would be repealed at the next session of the Legislature.

During a fire in the Kline building at Altoona Pa., last night three persons were electrocuted by live wires which dropped to the street. Among the victims was Harry Deshong, a lad of 12 years. The wires fell around the neck of young Deshong, and nearly burned his head off, the terrified crowd being afraid to render assistance. While the firemen were at work in front of the building the intense heat melted the wires and they dropped to the street. Young Deshong, who was inside the fire line, made an unsuccessful effort to dodge the falling wires.

GOMPERS' APPEAL.

In advance of publication in the Federationist, the newspaper organ of the trade unionists, President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, last night liberated the proof sheets of a democratic editorial that will appear in the August issue of the paper.

There are three double columns of it, much of the type being used in quoting the written demands that Gompers and his associates made on the republican and democratic conventions for insertion in their party platforms. Stress is laid on the anti-injunction planks of both conventions, which are quoted, analytical comments by Gompers being added.

A side shot is taken once more at the Supreme Court decision in the Danbury hatters' case, but Gompers remains silent regarding the decision in the Buck Stove and Range injunction case, for the alleged violation of which Gompers has been cited to appear and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Gompers expresses the belief that labor will solidly support the candidates of the democratic convention.

While disavowing an intention "to deliver the labor vote," he expresses the opinion that the worker will have to answer to his fellow-workers as well as his conscience if his action is contrary to the political course that is pointed out for him.

An argument is submitted with the intention of proving that the republican party is the enemy, and the democratic party the friend, of labor, and it concludes with a call to the workers to defeat their enemies for all offices, presidential, legislative, and judicial.

A marriage license was issued in Washington yesterday to James S. Brand and Mary M. Newhouse of Culpeper county.

Mrs. Annie Chamblin daughter of the late William Chamblin, died suddenly on Monday at the home of her nephew, Charles Osburn, near Bluemont, Loudoun county, aged 60 years.

A bush meeting, the largest prohibition and evangelical Chautauqua in that section will begin at Purcellville, Loudoun county, on August 4. It will continue ten days, during which time Judge William Hodges Mann, Governor Claude A Swanson, Hon. C. C. Carlin, and United States Senator Thomas S. Martin will deliver addresses. The entire programme is devoted to the cause of temperance and prohibition.

Florence Schenck, of Norfolk, who gained much notoriety more than a year ago by asserting on her return from Europe that she had been secretly married to C. H. Wilson, manager of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's stable of thoroughbreds, arrived in New York on Monday on the Minnehaha. Wilson was also a passenger. The return of Miss Schenck failed to clear up altogether the mystery of her relations to Wilson.

Miss Elizabeth Whiting Conrad, daughter of Major, and Mrs. Holmes Conrad, of Winchester, was married at her home there yesterday evening to Rev. William D. Smith, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, by Rev. Dr. James Grammer, of the Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. Dr. James R. Graham, of the Presbyterian Church. Robert Y. Conrad, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride was given away by her father. After a honeymoon trip in Canada Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Winchester.

DEATH OF BISHOP POTTER.

Henry Codman Potter, seventh Protestant Episcopal bishop of the diocese of New York, died last night at Fernleigh, his summer home at Cooperstown N. Y., after an illness of several weeks. The bishop was unconscious all of yesterday and the end, which came at 3.35 o'clock last night, was peaceful and quiet. He was 74 years old.

The members of his family were at his bedside when he died.

Death was due to embolism in the right leg, following a long attack of liver and stomach trouble.

Bishop Potter's illness first became known early in the spring, when announcement was made that he was unable to take part in the Easter service. His condition which was said to have resulted from overwork, manifested no improvement, and he had to give up his work.

Through his long illness Bishop Potter exhibited courage and patience, and not infrequently those about the bedside almost forgot the gravity of his condition when some expression of keen humor came from his lips.

Bishop Potter had been at the head of the New York diocese since 1887, succeeding his uncle, Bishop Horatio Potter. In addition to the heavy duties of the bishop of the largest diocese in point of population in the United States, he took an active part in movements of national importance. He did much to promote more cordial relationships between employes and employed, and when the occasion demanded lent his efforts to improve the standard of municipal government in New York city. Having once pointed the way towards muncipal regeneration, the bishop stepped aside and permitted others to carry out the reforms.

The conditions of immorality on the east side in New York were brought to his attention several years ago, and in a sharp sermon delivered at St. Paul's Church at a noonday meeting he called public attention to a lax condition of municipal direction which resulted in the overthrow of the Tammany administration and the election of Seth Low, president of Columbia College, to the office of mayor.

Bishop Potter caused a stir throughout the country several years ago, when he took part at the dedication of the Subway Tavern, on Bleecker street, New York. It was the plan of those interested in the tavern to conduct an establishment where all intoxicants would be served under regulations which would promote temperance, and by example improve the tone of saloons. The bishop made an address, in which he said he hoped that the tavern would prove a success. It failed.

A few years ago Bishop Potter, married Mrs. Elizabeth Scriven Clark, his second wife.

Bishop Potter was the son of Rev. Alonzo Potter, who was consecrated bishop of Pennsylvania in 1845 and was educated at the Episcopal Academy, in Philadelphia, and the Theological Seminary near Alexandria Va. He was ordained a priest in 1858. Bishop Potter wrote extensively of his travels abroad, and was a member of many well-known New York clubs.

THE STORK SAVED HIM.

Mrs. Nellie Stuart, 25 years old, of Chicago, gave birth to a child yesterday as she was sitting in Judge Crowe's courtroom waiting to appear as a witness against her husband, David Stuart, 26 years old. Dr. Wall informed a bailiff of the arrival and he told the judge. Judge Crowe ordered Stuart brought before him. "You are a lucky man," said the judge. "The stork intervened in your case." "How so?" asked the astonished man. "Why while you were sitting in the bull pen your wife became the mother of a nice baby, and I think I will allow you to go and tell all your friends of the stork's visit. You may go."

Everybody's Magazine for August, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is its fiction number and the eight clever stories give excellent reading. "Captain Thomas A. Scott—Master diver" is the biography of an American hero. "The ships must sail on time" is vigorous and fine and "The Board walkers" is a breezy description of Atlantic City. Eugene Wood's essay, "The Album on the center table," is one of his best, and the fifth instalment of "The Shadow World" gives the latest theories that have been advanced for and against "Spirit" forces.

Today's Telegraphic News

Judge Landis Reversed.

Chicago, July 22.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today, Judge Grosscup, Baker and Seaman sitting, reversed the decision of Federal Judge Landis fining the Standard Oil Company $29,240,000 and remanded the case back to the lower court for rehearing.

The suit was against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and the decision containing a scathing arraignment of Judge Landis for imposing a fine on a corporation that was not indicted and was not even represented in the trial.

The court in passing upon the case, among other things said:

"Passing over the fact that no word of evidence or other information supporting the trial courts' comment is to be found in the record, would the comment, if duly proven, justify a sentence such as this—one that otherwise would not have been imposed? Can a court, without abuse or judicial discretion, wipe out all the property of the defendant before the court and all the assets to which its creditors look, in an effort to reach and punish a party that is not before the court—a party that hasn't been tried, and hasn't been convicted? Can an American judge without abuse of judicial discretion condemn any one who has not had his day in court? That, to our mind, is strange doctrine in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence. No monarch, no parliament, no tribunal of western Europe for centuries has pretended to have the right to punish except after due trial under all the forms of law. Can that rightfully be done here, on no other basis then the judge's personal belief that the party marked by him for punishment deserves punishment? If so it is because the man who happens to be the judge is above the law. The judgment of the District Court is reversed and the case remanded with instructions to grant a new trial and proceed further in accordance with the law."

Demands Upon the Sultan.

Vienna, July 22.—The leaders of the Macedonian uprising sent word to the sultan today that unless their demands are granted before Monday, the various armies that are mobilized near Monastir, Salonica and Adrianople will begin their march against Constantinople. There are nearly 50,000 armed mutineers in those armies and they are under the leadership of efficient Turkish officers. The rebels at Monastir have captured 19 of the garrison officers who refused to join the mutiny and have notified the loyalists at Salonica that unless 38 rebels who are held prisoners there are released; the captives at Monastir will be put to death.

Constantinople, via Plodiv, July 22.—The sultan today decided to grant a constitution to the people as the only means of checking the rebellion that is now sweeping Macedonia and parts of Asia Minor.

Convinced by his constantly failing health that he has not long to live, the sultan has made known to a few of his intimate advisers that he has chosen his third son, Mehemmed Burhan-Ed-Din, 21 years old, as his successor. Whether the sultan's selection of the heir to the throne will be allowed to go unquestioned is a matter of grave doubt.

Preparing to Receive Prince of Wales.

Quebec, July 22.—Under two massive arches emblazoned with the arms of Britain and crested with the lion and the unicorn guarding the imperial crown, George, Prince of Wales, will be welcomed to the tercentennial of Canada's oldest city today.

When the cruiser Indomitable with the prince aboard swings around Point Levis into the harbor at noon from eight British battleships and two French and the American battleship New Hampshire will boom forth a royal salute.

At the place where the prince will land will be awaiting Earl Grey, Governor General of Canada; Field Marshal Lord Roberts, representing the British army; Premier Laurier and his cabinet, Vice President Fairbanks, representing the United States; Admiral Cowles, representing the United States navy, and Admiral Jauregiberry and the French enjoys.

To the right of the landing place has been erected a pavilion gorgeous with the royal insignia, and in it the prince will receive the address of welcome. Thence he will be driven in an open carriage through the streets to the fortress where during his week's stay he will be lodged in especially prepared apartments in the citadel.

Mayflower Sinks Yacht.

Newport, R. I., July 22.—The yacht Mayflower, bearing President Roosevelt from Oyster Bay to Newport, ran down and sunk the schooner Menawa early today in Long Island Sound between New Haven and New London. The captain and five men aboard the Menawa were taken on board the Mayflower without great difficulty before the schooner went down. The accident happened during a dense fog about 1:15 a. m. Although the smaller boat was cut down to the water's edge, the only injury to the Mayflower was the loss of her bowsprit. The president and the other guests on board were not awakened and knew nothing of the accident until daylight. The Menawa was owned by C. E. Pembleton, of Isleston, Md. Only the fact that the Menawa was slow in foundering and the quick work of the Mayflower's crew prevented the accident from resulting tragically. The crew of the schooner, with the exception of the helmsman, were asleep and came nearly going down with her.

Marked for Assassination.

San Francisco, July 22.—Rudolph Spreckels, financial backer of the graft prosecutions; Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Henri, District Attorney Langdon and Detective William J. Burns, all have been marked for assassination, according to John Claudianes, who was arrested in connection with the dynamiting of John Gallagher's house. Claudianes has made a complete confession. Abraham Ruef, presumably at the behest of men indicted as bribegivers, planned to kill Gallagher, who is the chief witness of the prosecution. The plans as confessed by Claudianes, it is stated, include the dynamiting of Spreckels in his home. Henri was to be felled with a blak jack, while the details of the deaths of Langdon and Burns had not been worked out. According to Claudianes, he and his brother, Peter, were employed to do the dynamiting.

The Olympic Games.

London, July 22.—With a lead of 9 2-3 points over the British at the beginning of today's Olympic programme, the American athletes entered the contests with a determination to give the stars and stripes another chance to flutter from the stadium flag pole.

The running broad jump was the first thing on the programme. In sections five and six, Frank C. Irons, of the Chicago Athletic Club, set a new Olympic record by hurling himself through the air 24 feet five inches, four inches better than Myer Prinzstein's former Olympic mark and one half inch better than the intercollegiate record of A. L. Kraenzelin.

When his mark was posted there were cheers from all over the stadium. E. T. Cook, of Cornell and Dan Kelley, another of the Irish American contingent of stars, won firsts in sections one and two and three and four respectively, with marks of 22 feet 10 1-2 inches and 23 feet 3 1-4 inches.

The athletes from the United States suffered their first disappointment of the week today in the defeat of "Little Jimmie" Rector in the final of the 100 meters dash. Rector was forced to yield to Walker, the South African. The Virginian was but half a yard behind Walk at the tape.

The United States gained 19 points today, to one single count for England, and her lead is now 75 to 47 1-3.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Ridgefield Park, N. J., July 22.—William Posl, foreman of the jewelry department of Tiffany's Fifth avenue establishment, was shot in the leg and slightly wounded today by a man said to be David Bourguis, a former employee of the Tiffany concern, whom Posl had discharged. Bourguis then turned the revolver upon himself and fired a shot into his brain, dying instantly. The shooting took place at the Ridgefield Park station just as Posl was about to board a train for New York. Bourguis, who was dismissed at Tiffany's about a year ago, engaged in real estate business in New Jersey, but he is said to have fared badly and his reverses are thought to have turned his mind.

Searching for Robbers.

Reno, July 22.—Vigilant of Likely, Californias, are scouring the mountains about that region for five bandits who held up and robbed the Alturas stage coach of $28,000 about five miles out of that town. The robbers did not disturb the passengers on the coach. With rifles up they ordered the driver to throw off the coach a Wells Fargo box which contained the pay roll of the California-Oregon Railroad's employes and then compelled him to whip up his horses while they took to the woods.

Officers Assassinated.

Warsaw, July 22.—Twelve government officers were assassinated in Russian Poland during June according to an official statement issued today. The report says that 13 other officers were seriously wounded by would be assassins, while 39 private individuals lost their lives and 19 were injured in attacks growing out of political trouble. The revolutionists also raided many post offices, official bureaus, banks and private offices, securing loot to the amount of $170,000.

Will Not Accept Chairmanship.

Brockton, Mass., July 12.—Friends of Ex-Governor Wm. L. Douglass are certain that he will not even consider the chairmanship of the democratic national committee which according to reports from Lincoln will probably be offered him. His friends say that since he would not take the nomination for vice president it is less likely that he would accept the job of running the campaign which would mean far more work and considerably less glory.

On The Beach.

York, Me., July 22.—Six pretty Baltimore girls were in court here today because they would not use bath robes while on the beach. The W. C. T. U. objected. They were taxed a small fine, but on leaving the court they said: "We'll do it again. The old tabbies are not going to keep us behind a screen. That's not what we are here for."

Sailing Orders Issued.

Honolulu, July 22.—Sailing orders were issued today for the Pacific fleet to start on its long voyage to Auckland, New Zealand, at six o'clock tonight. The battleship Minnesota will stay behind to receive mail from the United States, but will catch up with the remainder of the fleet before its arrival at Auckland.

Another Mysterious Murder.

New York, July 22.—A handsomely gowned young woman, of about 24, was found dead with a bullet hole in the middle of her brow, lying across a tool chest in Irving Square Park, Williamsburg, this morning. The police believe it is a case of murder, as no revolver was found near the body.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 22.—All through the first hour the market was strong.

There was a violent reaction in Westinghouse just as the hour ended on which the price fell nine points. The leading railroad stocks held about steady. Bonds irregular.

The announcement of the decision in the Standard Oil case was followed on the market by a sharp advance of about a point in many of the more active issues, but as prices reached a new high level heavy selling orders appeared and in some cases bids were made for stocks at higher prices than those sold.

Over Thirty-five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

THE CITY COUNCIL'S ULTIMATUM.

The City Council on Tuesday night, July 14th, gave notice that it would not make any further expenditures for the extermination of what is claimed as smallpox by some and denied by others. This joint action of the two boards was of a character that did not require an approval or veto by the mayor, as it was not stated that council would do anything, but what it would not do—that is, "make an appropriation for a specific purpose." As it holds the purse strings it is in the power of no one else to expend money. This recalls incidents of 1899. During January of that year the city auditor called Mayor Simpson's attention to the fact of no appropriation for smallpox expenses and that he, the auditor, had declined to pay the physician's bill or the bills for house guards. On January 25, 1899, Mayor Simpson sent a message to council covering the whole matter then agitating the public mind. He began his message with these words:

"I herewith respectfully submit to your thoughtful consideration the facts that have been gleaned by your health officer and his assistants in their investigations of the peculiar, mysterious and, to many, incomprehensible malady which has afflicted some of our people during the last few weeks, and as a brief history of this disease during its progress among us may not be uninteresting, I digress for a moment to give it," etc., and finished as follows: "I would, however, respectfully recommend an appropriation to meet possible contingencies, as the present hospital accommodations are not adequate."

Mr. John H. Green said the communication required prompt attention, and offered the following, which was adopted in both boards unanimously:

"Resolved, That the mayor and health officer be authorized to take all steps to stamp out smallpox in the city, and the necessary appropriation to defray the expenses occurring therefor is hereby appropriated."

What former Mayor Simpson termed a peculiar, mysterious and incomprehensible disease cost the city $9,970.59. What the present is to cost will not be known for a while, at least, as some bills are now before the finance committee, and the auditor has stated he will audit no claims, by whoever approved, until council makes an appropriation or orders the payment of such claims.

HEAVY RAIN.

The long-looked-for rain arrived last night, and for several hours there were heavy showers at intervals. The heavens were aglow with lightning for several hours before rain began to fall. Shortly after ten o'clock the first shower set in. This was followed by others which continued until after midnight. The flashes of lightning and the roll of thunder were incessant, and at times the electrical display was very vivid. Several heavy crashes of thunder followed the more glaring discharges from the celestial batteries. Lightning ran at one time along the electric railway wires on south Royal street. The only damage reported this morning was in St. Paul's cemetery, where lightning knocked over some tombstones and seriously damaged others. Trees in the cemetery were also shattered by the electric fluid.

TO INVESTIGATE.

Thomas Grant, secretary of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, has been instructed by the executive committee of that body to obtain complete information regarding alleged discrimination against Washington in passenger and freight rates by railroads entering that city. It is asserted that Alexandria has better rates than Washington, and that railroad tickets to certain points may be bought considerably cheaper in Alexandria than in that city. It is stated, for instance, that the passage fare from Alexandria to any point in Virginia is only 2 cents a mile, whereas in Washington the charge to nearly all points is 3 cents a mile.

BARS ON STEAMBOATS.

That the excise board of the District of Columbia has no authority to grant retail liquor licenses for use on steamboats plying on the Potomac river is the opinion submitted to the commissioners yesterday by Corporation Counsel E. H. Thomas. The question of the commissioners' authority arose recently in an informal application by the Independent Steamboat Barge Company for a liquor license for the steamboat River Queen. Mr. Thomas holds there is nothing in the present law which gives jurisdiction to the excise board in the matter of barrooms on boats.

MR. EMERSON'S SPEED BOAT.

Mr. E. Bruce Emerson's new hydroplane was put in the water for a few minutes yesterday, but no attempt was made to speed her up, as the object of the test was to determine whether water fenders, to increase her freeboard, were necessary, and it was finally determined not to give her any more trials in rough water until such fenders could be added, which will take a couple of days. The boat showed a remarkable response to her power, and it is believed that high speed will be attained when the proper appliances are added.

COAL CONTRACT.

E. P. Murphy & Son, Inc., have just closed a contract with the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad for the road's requirements of anthracite coal, which is to be delivered in carload lots at Alexandria, Quantico, Milford, Fredericksburg and other points along the line. This contract represents a large supply of coal and is a subject of considerable interest among local coal people.—[Richmond News Leader.

THE AUDOBON SOCIETY.

The following is from Summer School Item published at the University of Virginia during the session of the summer school:

On Wednesday night July 8, Prof. Pearson, secretary of the National Audobon Society, delivered a stereopticon lecture in Cabell Hall. The lecture was highly instructive and set forth the great work of the Audobon Society in protecting the feathered songsters.

The Audobon Society has as yet no organization in Virginia. Some forty names have been handed in for membership in the society since the lecture.

The National Audobon Society was represented during the week by Miss Mary Taylor, school secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies, and by Miss Katherine H. Stuart, chairman of Audubon committee, for the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs. They gave a number of addresses before the assembled students of the summer school and otherwise labored to present the aesthetic and economic value of wild birds and to organize in this behalf an active interest among the teachers of Virginia.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

Conductor W. B. Smithers, of this city, had an exciting experience on his train on the Southern Railway yesterday when a passenger named Baxter Shemwell, who had gotten aboard at Charlottesville, demanded that the train be stopped for him at a way station. Capt. Smithers told Mr. Shemwell that the train did not stop there, whereupon Shemwell became excited and, it is said, drew a pistol and threatened to shoot the conductor unless he stopped the train. Capt. Smithers treated the matter coolly and in the meantime telegraphed ahead for an officer to be on hand and arrest Shemwell. The latter, however, when the train reached his station suddenly pulled the bell cord and when the train stopped he, with pistol in hand, jumped from the car. The occurrence gave rise to exaggerated accounts which were published in some newspapers.

WATCH RECOVERED.

A gentleman who was at the union passenger station this morning waiting to board a south bound train was considerably disturbed when the train appeared in sight upon discovering that he had left his gold watch and chain in the toilet room. He repaired thither immediately, but failed to find them. He reported his loss to Mr. W. G. Lehew, the ticket agent, and the latter discovered that a small boy had entered the toilet room after the man left it. Mr. Lehew found the boy, who was with his father awaiting the arrival of a train, and calling the child aside, demanded the watch. The boy put his hand in his pocket and brought forth the timepiece and chain. The man who owned them was by this time on the train, which was in the act of moving away, when his property was handed to him.

ACCIDENT TO A BRAKEMAN.

Brakeman Carey Hawkins, of the Southern Railway, was the victim of a serious accident about noon today on Union street, near Duke. He was engaged in shifting cars and was standing on the top of a box car when the sudden coupling with another car caused Hawkins to make a dive headlong on the rubblestone roadway. He was picked up by other members of the shifting crew and as soon as possible conveyed to the Alexandria Hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured and his right wrist broken. His condition is said to be serious. Mr. Hawkins resides in West End, where he has a wife and three children. He is about thirty-five years old.

The members of the company, as heretofore stated, will take a train at King and Henry streets. The company held a drill at Armory Hall last night and will assemble there again tonight for final orders.

The conversation referred to in yesterday's Gazette as to the excursion of the Elks' Dramatic Club tomorrow took place between Messrs. Joseph C. Gates and Louis E. Shuman. Quite a number of replies were received, a few with initials wrong, but the one by Mr. John D. Normoyle was the first correct one received and he was given the five complimentary tickets.

CONTACT AWARDED.

The trustees of the School Board of Falls Church district, Fairfax county, met in this city today to open bids for the erection of a brick school building in West End, near the reservoir of the Alexandria Water Company. The following bids were received: G. C. Ware, Newport News, including heating, $7,290; Harris Bros., of Alexandria, $8,697; J. W. Deavers, of Alexandria, $6,600; Geo. Leigh & Bros., Louise, $7,380; Joseph F. Rodgers, of Alexandria, $7,700; J. C. Curtis, of Newport News, $6,600; S. D. Devaughn, of Alexandria, $7,707.20; J. D. Knight, of Alexandria, $7,022.15, and Hammersley & Steelman, of Fairfax county, $7,635.70. Mr. Ware's bid was the only one which included the heating apparatus, and the bids of Mr. Deavers and Mr. Curtis were the same. After some discussion the contract was awarded to Mr. Deavers, the local bidder, for $6,600, and Mr. Curt's very gracefully accepted the decision. The building is to be of brick, 31 by 56 feet, two stories high, with three school rooms, an auditorium, principal's room, toilet rooms and a slate roof.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 22, 1908

Judgment Was Confirmed.

A certain old time justice of the peace, wishing to bring suit against a citizen, consulted the statutes and found that suits of such a character might be brought before any justice of the peace.

"Well, then," thought he, "I'll just try the case myself."

Straightway he made out a writ against his adversary and signed it.

On the day set for trial the defendant appeared with counsel. Both gentlemen not unnaturally objected to the constitution of the court.

"Why," demanded the justice, "do you deny that I am a justice of the peace?"

The lawyer would not contest this point, but argued that such a construction of the law was against all sense and reason.

A vigorous altercation ensued, and then the judge remarked that not for the world would he have two gentlemen suppose him governed by any personal considerations. "I will therefore," he added gracefully, "render judgment against myself and then appeal to the supreme court."

"But the mischief of it was," said the justice, relating the story afterward, "that when my judgment got to the supreme court it was unanimously reaffirmed."

The Dog's Tail.

A prominent citizen was on trial charged with harboring a vicious dog.

The attorney for the defense had been consulting a dog expert and had learned that if a dog holds his tail up over his back when he barks he is not angry, while if he holds it straight out behind him he is in a belligerent, bloodthirsty frame of mind. Anxious to air his newly acquired information, the lawyer began cross questioning the prosecuting witness thus:

"Now, did you notice the position in which this dog's tail was held when he came at you?"

"I did not," said the witness, "for that was not the end from which I anticipated injury. I had another end in view. Now, if the dog had been a hornet"—

"No levity, sir!" thundered the attorney. "Answer the question. In what position was the dog's tail when he came at you?"

"I believe, sir," faltered the terrified witness, "that it was behind him."—Chicago News.

The King's Cock Crower.

In the good old time there was an English court official known as the king's cock crower. It seems a strange office. Why did the king require a cock crower, and why could not the common barn door variety serve his majesty's purpose? The reason, as you shall see, was that the barn door variety cannot be depended upon for times and hours, and he has never been persuaded to observe Lent. Now, this was a pious custom and a religious duty. All through Lent the king's cock crower crowed instead of calling the hours of the night in the palace. He began on Ash Wednesday, when he entered the hall in which the king's supper was served, and then crowed the hour in the presence of the royal party. The meaning of the custom is obvious. It was only one of the many ways in which the history of the Christian religion was brought home to the minds of people before the reading of the gospel in the vernacular. The office was continued down to the year 1822.—London Queen.

"The Greatest Widower."

This is said to be the title of a genuine essay evolved some years ago by a boy in a Welsh board school:

"King Henry VIII. was the greatest widower that ever lived. He was born at Anno Domini in the year 1066. He had 510 wives besides children. The first was beheaded and executed. The second was revoked. She never smiled again. But she said the word 'Calais' would be found on her heart after her death. The greatest man in this reign was Lord Sir Garret Wolsey. He was sir named the Boy Bachelor. He was born at the age of 15, unmarried. Henry VIII. was succeeded on the throne by his great-grandmother, the beautiful and accomplished Mary, queen of Scots, sometimes known as the Lady of the Lake!"

Helping the Burglar Out.

"John," she whispered, "there's a burglar in the drawing room. He has just knocked against the piano and hit several keys at once."

"I'll go down," said he.

"Oh, John, don't do anything rash!"

"Rash! Why, I'm going to help him. You don't suppose he can remove the piano from the house without assistance!"—London Throne.

An Omission.

Magistrate—What is the charge against you this time? Boggs—They cotched me a-stealing oranges, yer worship. Magistrate—Didn't I tell you when you were here before not to steal anything more? Boggs—No, yer worship; you said not to steal any more lemons, but yer didn't say a word about oranges.—London Graphic.

Wide Awake.

Fuddle—You know Stocks, don't you? Doctor—Yes, indeed. He is now a patient of mine. Fuddle—Pretty wide awake man, isn't he? Doctor—I should say so. I am treating him for insomnia.—London Tit-Bits.

Quite the Contrary.

The Sympathetic Friend—It must be very hard to lose money at the races. Smith (a plunger)—Hard! Hang it, old chap, it's the easiest thing in the world!—London Opinion.
